LAST DAY OF THE FAST.

According to the Mohamedan Calendar, the month of fasting ends to-day (the 29th day of Ramadan), and Beyram falls to-morrow; but should the new moon of Shawal not appear this evening the Moslems of Egypt will have to fast to-morrow, making the period of Ramadan 30 days, as it should be. The feast will be announced this evening by the firing of 21 guns, on the appearance of the new moon.

DEATH OF GENERAL ROGERS.

General Sir Robert Rogers, K.C.B., is dead.

Lieut. Gen. Sir Robert Gordon Rogers, K.C.B., had seen service in Egypt, having taken part in the memorable battle of Tel-el-Kebir and the advance to Cairo, for which he received mention in despatches, besides the bronze star and Egyptian medal with clasp, and was decorated with the 3rd class Medjidieh. He received his first commission in 1848 and served throughout the operations in Umbeyla, 1863; Loondkhor, 1866; Black Mountain, 1868; Ajmal Chubootra, 1876; Jowaki, 1877-78, and Afghanistan (Ali Masjid, Lohman Valley, Zymookhb) 1878-80, being frequently mentioned in despatches. From 1878 to 1884 he was commandant of the 20th Punjab Infantry. He had a large number of medals, and was made A.D.C. to the late Queen in 1882.

MEDITERRANEAN FEVER.

The authorities of the Naval Dockyard at Malta have issued a circular to the employers drawing attention to the researches of the Mediterranean Fever Commission, and to the facts which the commission has established in its endeavours to trace the causes of Mediterranean fever.

It has been found that the milk of both goats and cows frequently contains the fever germ in large numbers. The commission recommends the workpeople to abstain altogether from fresh milk and use only the tinned variety.

A little while ago the military authorities forbade the introduction of fresh milk into barracks or quarters. This action has been followed by a remarkable diminution in the number of fever cases among the troops. A similar result has been obtained in the Naval Hospital, where goats' milk has been entirely tabooed.

GOVERNMENT CONTRACTS.

A correspondent points out that a recent number of the "Journal Officiel" contained the following announcement:

"Contracts:—Ports and Lighthouses Administration.

"Notice is hereby given that the tender submitted by Messrs. J. Birch and Co., Ltd., '3 London Wall Buildings, London, E.C. has been accepted for the supply of the two gas 'beacons'."

"Do you not think," he asks, "that it would have been fair to add also the contract price, as is the practice with the other branches of the Public Works Ministry (the Irrigation for instance), when public tenders are advertised for?"

LIBERALS AND EGYPT.

VERNACULAR PRESS POLEMICS.

In the course of an article dealing with his recent visit to London, the editor of "Al Mokattam" says:—

".....Thereupon we were received by the Secretary of the Conservative Union. This gentleman promptly accused the Liberals of a false policy and of maladministration. They were destroying all that the Conservatives had built up—witness South Africa.....Had not Sir Edward Grey been at the Foreign Office they might have indulged in all the extravaganzas ascribed to them by a section of the Egyptian Press.....He added, speaking of Lord Cromer, 'The whole nation, thanks to his reforms in Egypt, has absolute confidence in him; equal confidence is felt by the leaders without distinction of party; Lord Cromer's position in Egypt is absolutely unassailable.'"

"When we compare these statements with those of the Liberals we cannot help laughing a little. Why do not some of our excellent editors hear and understand what we have heard and understood?"

"The Liberals tell us that their confidence in Lord Cromer, who is one of themselves, is unlimited, the Conservatives tell us just the same thing. And our good editors in Egypt know for a fact from certain persons better informed than the Liberals and the Conservatives, e.g., Mr. Blunt, the Editor of 'Al Lewa,' and several dismissed officials, that Lord Cromer is only coming back to put his papers in order, pack up and retire, a beaten man."

"All who disagree with this view are the foes of the Moslems and the patriots. Judge for yourselves, Egyptians!"

"Al Lewa," of course, has much to say on this subject. For ourselves, we wonder whom Mustapha Pasha Kamel met in England: Mr. Robertson, whom he failed to persuade to come out here, Mr. Wilfrid Blunt, who forms a political party of his own, and a limited number of Radicals who gave him a dinner. We are not aware that the Nationalist leader met Sir Edward Grey, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the editors of the principal daily papers, the Ministers,—in fact, the leaders of British thought. He now assails the "dakhil"—"les intrus," i.e., the Editor of "Al Mokattam" with the questions: 'Where have you been? Whom did you see? We never saw you in town?'

"Mutato nomine de te, Fabula narratur."

Who, but the few enthusiasts we have mentioned, saw the author of the phrase "les intrus" in London? What did the Egyptian tribune effect? Paragraphs in two or three Radical papers, columns in the Egyptian Press and—voilà tout. Is Egypt a penny the better off after Mustapha Pasha's divagations? Is any one better off but the proprietor of the Carlton Hotel?

"Parturient montes"—with a vengeance, but a very "ridiculous Mustapha" is the product of their labour. Still there is always the space of composing attacks on "les intrus." Like the poor, they are always with us, and serve as whipping-boys on whom Mustapha Kamel can vent his annoyance. The most amusing thing about it all is that they are not a penny the worse.

WRESTLING AT ABBAS THEATRE.

There were five matches on Tuesday night, instead of the usual four. Bigmann beat Clément, the Belgian, but not without difficulty, and only after 13 minutes. Limousin had a victory for once, over Sandorfi, in 16 minutes, both men showing to much advantage. Cettlinger beat Van der Berg in 12 minutes; it was good wrestling, but we had expected an even harder fight from the Dutchman. Milo only took 6 minutes to finish Cylis. The last event, and the shortest, was Pons and Noel. Noel had very little fun for his money; his big compatriot threw him about as he pleased, and the contest was over in about half the time taken by Milo.

The wrestling on Wednesday night again consisted of five bouts. Mehmet the African beat Storn in 6 minutes. Bigmann defeated the plump Swiss, Finisch, in twice the time—13 minutes, to be exact. It was most amusing, Finisch being in unusually good form, with weird gestures, facial contortions, and ferocious Berserk cries. Cillis beat Limousin after a long struggle in which both distinguished themselves. Sobackmann only took five minutes to finish off Milo, but it was an exciting contest, and at one moment Milo all but had his man down.

But the event of the evening was Salama Hassib, the native amateur, against Clément, the Belgian, for a L.E. 50 stake. After about 10 seconds sparring for grip Hassib had his man round the body and put him on his back almost before we realised what was happening. It took about half a minute to finish the fall, which was doubtful, as Hassib had his hand under Clément's shoulder. Some of the spectators hesitated at the referee's decision, but it looked thorough enough. Hassib is tall, not so stout as most of the men, and he evidently has great strength of arm. Clément seemed completely powerless in his grip.

THE KING'S BIRTHDAY.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

Beyroul, November 12.

On the anniversary of the birthday of King Edward, Sir Robert Drummond Hay received the congratulations of the Consular body, the Vali of Beyroul, and the Governor-General of Lebanon, as well as other distinguished personages. In the evening Sir Robert and Lady Hay held a reception, and the function was in every way a success. The illuminations had a very charming effect. The rows of lights on the long border of the high garden-wall and the balcony above, the flagstaff ropes turned into long graceful lines of light, the large arabesque lamp with small pagoda windows of multi-coloured lights, suspended above the monumental entrance, the two fine Arecaria trees on each side of the state and straight and tall like Ethiopian sentinels, and the beautiful palm-trees and rose bushes around, all presented a scene of oriental charm particularly consonant with the place, and the effect was enhanced by a soft autumnal air and a clear starry sky.

The guests represented principally the British and American colonies, constituted to a large degree by the missionary class. British missionaries from the outlying villages in the Lebanon attended, and one could not help admiring the lively sense of patriotism that drew them together from such widely-scattered places to celebrate under the Union Jack the anniversary of their Sovereign. Among the Americans, all of whom were members of the College staff, the President Emeritus, Dr. Daniel Bliss, already a historic personality, was a conspicuous figure.

American missionary effort has, for so many generations, been exercised with fraternal union towards a common goal, and nothing could be more natural than that they should be made to assemble on an occasion of such supreme interest and give common expression to festive jubilation. Furthermore, in the East, where little distinction is made between English and Americans, and where both are considered as belonging to the one great English-speaking family, it behoves their representatives abroad to appear in the eyes of the people as one body representative of the moral and intellectual sway of the Anglo-Saxon race in the world. I believe everybody will concur in the opinion that the public manifestation of such solidarity between the two great English-speaking peoples, co-operating in the same field of moral and intellectual activity, tends to heighten their prestige and bring them out more prominently still as the exponents of Western civilization and progress.

The function was evidently conceived with judicious foresight and ably planned out. Besides the American colony there was a sprinkling of Druse aristocracy. The Emir Tawfik Arslan, Kaimakam of the Chouf, and his brother, Emir Fouad, of versatile intelligence, Cassim Bey Bazzidine, sanitary inspector, and two distinguished personages of Rachaya, near Merj Eyoure, were invited. One of the two latter is said to be a man of great wealth, while the other is a well-known personage of the Druse nobility of that region. Let me parenthetically observe that even there plutocracy is beginning to vie with ancestral aristocracy. Both of these native chiefs were dressed in their oriental garb and the sumptuous flowing garments set off in a very picturesque manner the monotony of black evening dresses. Both are handsome and looked particularly dignified. I was informed that they are the companions of Sir Robert's hunting tours in the regions under their so-called vassal rule.

The presence of the Greek Consul-General, Mr. Londos, and his charming wife, who is an intimate friend of Lady Hay, and is, indeed, a favourite of high society, was likely to be regarded as a departure from the strictly national character of the fête. But the fact of Mrs. Londos having been brought up in England, and what is more significant still, the very near relationship between the crowned heads of the two Kingdoms, may have made Mr. and Mrs. Londos feel justly entitled to make a kind of "surprise" to their colleagues and friends and join in the celebration of a sovereign so closely allied to their own. Indeed, the sympathy which the English people have shown the Hellenic nation at a crucial period of the evolution of their national history has linked the two peoples into an abiding friendship which the great, fire-tongued bard, Byron, has immortalized in divine verse.

Many of the "toilettes" were remarkably elegant, and Lady Hay looked at her best in a fine mauve robe with a very rich lace echarpe. At the beginning of the evening tea and a rich variety of cakes were served, followed by lemonade and ices, and finally the traditional iced champagne for toasts to his Imperial Majesty.

Before the invited began to take leave a group was judiciously arranged in the hall, and a flashlight snapshot was taken of it. The photos will prove appropriate and precious mementoes of a not-to-be forgotten event.

The evening was throughout a most pleasant one, and there was a general feeling of dignified ease which only a hostess like Lady Hay and a host like Sir Robert, endowed with talent for social selection and varied in the ways of the "grand monde," can produce.

ZIZINIA THEATRE.

"LA CHATELAINE."

"La Châtelaine," by A. Capus, is an altogether pleasing piece. There is throughout an element of cleanliness and sincerity; its interest never flags; its dialogue is bright and replete with epigram, and there is just a sufficient preponderance of comedy over tragedy to realise our hopes of a happy dénouement. Now-a-days an unhappy ending savours much of suburban melodrama.

The action hinges chiefly on a "non combatant," Jacques, the only child of Thérèse and Gaston de Rives, who, after 10 years of married failure, have decided on a divorce. Gaston having squandered their fortune, all that remains of Thérèse's dot is the heavily mortgaged and half-ruined château de Saunverre, which she is trying to sell to be able to live with her son on the proceeds. At the house of her relations, the de la Baudières, she meets a M. André Jossan, a cheery and astute being, possessed of much of the world's goods and knowledge. With a rapid transition from generous pity to fervent love, he promptly buys the château at a fabulous price and after some innocent demur on Thérèse's part, they agree to marry as soon as the divorce permits. In an admirable scene he overcomes her scruples at accepting the high figure he intends to pay and calms her suspicions of the uncharitable motives the world will conjure up regarding the transaction. They are reckoning, however, without Mme de la Baudière, a delightful character, with something of a Betsy Trotwood in her set resolution to accomplish her ever-changing purpose. Her husband, by judiciously giving way to her, generally brings her determination to coincide with the dictates of common-sense. It is consistent with her nature that, being intent on securing so good a "partie" as Jossan for her daughter Lucienne, she should try to conciliate M. and Mme de Rives and so frustrate Thérèse's project, only to finally veer round in favour of young de Neray's marriage with Lucienne. There is, however, a far more serious obstacle to Thérèse's ultimate happiness in the shape of her husband, a worthless individual, more selfish than villainous, who can not brook the prospect of Thérèse and Jacques' future well-being, contrasted to his own adverse situation. The divorce lies in his power, and, in a stormy and bitter scene, he refuses to take proceedings unless Thérèse will consent to break off her proposed marriage with Jossan. No less emphatically does Thérèse scout the notion, whereupon Gaston revenges himself by kidnapping the child, over whom he has a legal right, and leaves Thérèse, who adores her son, in the throes of despair. She is partly consoled by Jossan, who undertakes to recover the boy, and when the two men are confronted, manages with infinite tact and courage to rouse a spark of liberal sentiment in de Rives by getting him to restore the child and go on with the divorce suit.

Such is the bare plot, in itself diverting enough, but in the hands of Mme Jane Hading, as Thérèse, with the very able support of M. Arnaud, as Jossan, a veritable masterpiece. Jane Hading in the "Dami-monde" and Jane Hading in "La Châtelaine" are two totally different beings; the unscrupulous intrigante gives place to the simple, affectionate woman, devoted to her son and to her benefactor; restraint is superseded by repose; the painfully extorted confession is replaced by the mournful compliance with adversity, a compliance imposed by Thérèse's strict sense of honour. This, and far more, did Mme Hading impress upon her audience, who were thoroughly appreciative and full of enthusiasm at this excellent achievement. A lot might be said for M. Arnaud's Jossan,—throughout a spirited and convincing performance, which met with a good reception. Success also attended Mme Alceide Leblanc and M. Ragoneau as M. and Mme de la Baudière; but, as the sordid husband, M. Haute-riev might have made more of his part.

THE AFRICAN SOCIETY.

The eighth monthly dinner of the African Society was held last week at the Criterion Restaurant. Sir Harry H. Johnston presided, and among those present were Mr. George Wilson (Deputy-Commissioner of Uganda), the guest of the evening, Sir William Holland, M.P., Mr. H. Samuel, M.P., Mr. Cartwright Watson, M.P., Colonel Wetherston, Professor Dunstan, Mme. Novikoff, Mrs. J. R. Green, and Mr. H. d'Égville (secretary). After the loyal toasts the chairman proposed the health of Mr. George Wilson, who, he observed, had been connected for 20 years with British East Africa. Mr. Wilson, in responding, described the gradual progress of the people of Uganda towards civilization, and paid a high tribute to the valuable work carried out by the industrial branch established by the Church Missionary Society. The system of very moderate taxation which had been imposed on the country had been productive of great good, for it had promoted a spirit of industry among the natives. Rubber and cotton could be produced there in abundance, and he hoped that before long agricultural schools would be established. The imports and exports together were valued last year at £3,000,000, as compared with £97,000 in 1902. Mr. Shelford, in moving a vote of thanks to the chairman, stated that the membership of the society had risen during the last 12 months from 400 to 600. Sir H. Johnston, in reply, said that Uganda represented a new departure in African development. The people of England had thought too much of African development as the founding of colonies for white men. They were now coming to understand that much of their work between the Zambesi and the Sahara was a work of education of young countries.

THE PLAGUES OF AFRICA.

LOCUSTS IN ERYTHREA.

It is stated that the devastations of locusts in Erythrea have had a serious effect in the Colony. The insects swarm by hundreds of millions in clouds so dense as to shut out the rays of the sun over wide tracts of country, where every vestige of vegetation has disappeared. It is the table lands of Ethiopia which have suffered with exceptional severity. The swarms seem to have originated in the Nile Valley, and to have been wafted north-eastwards by high winds. From Ethiopia some of the swarms drift towards the Red Sea, Egypt, and the Mediterranean.

JORDAN WATER FOR BAPTISMS.

Colonel Clifford Nadaud, an American officer who has acquired a concession from the Turkish Government of the sole right to supply water from the River Jordan, is the first concessionaire of the kind in the annals of monopoly. The water is to be exported in barrels, under official seal, for baptismal purposes. The main supply will go to the States, where, it seems, people are particular about the contents of a font.

The same care used to be exercised in England, in the case of Royal infants. Her present Majesty was baptised in water from the Jordan. But its use, even for exalted recipients of the rite, has ceased to be de rigueur. That the new Jordan Trust should, as it appears to do, contemplate doing a wholesale business in baptisms, speaks well for the American birth rate, and should accordingly enjoy the Presidential sanction.

HERR TSCHIRSCHKY'S VISIT.

BERLIN, November 15.

Several French newspapers continue to comment on the visit of Herr Tschirschky to the Vatican, pretending that he must have asked for its intervention on the Polish question. According to information from an authorized source, this news is absolutely without foundation. Herr Tschirschky, in his negotiations, did not touch upon Polish affairs. It is true that after his departure the Government was forced to send to the Vatican a memorandum on the situation of the Polish schools, by its envoy, refuting the false reports emanating from a Polish source. The support of the Vatican has not been asked for, nor has the least wish for it been expressed. The Government has no need for intervention on its part. As for the relations existing between the Vatican and France, Germany observes extreme reserve.

It is thought here that the conflict caused by the law of separation is only transitory, and that sooner or later a reconciliation will be effected. (Reuter)

NERVOUS COLLAPSE.

The Dread of a Strong Man.
"Was Dying by Inches."
Not an Atom of Strength; No Blood.
Healthy Again; Nerves Sound.
An Astonishing Cure by

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Strength, with the full health in which men glory, a clear eye, and a sound constitution were depicted in Mr. John Evans, when a journalist called upon him at "The Oaklands," Pontypriid.

"Yet only a few months ago," said Mr. Evans, "I was 'dying by inches.' I had no blood or energy, no colour or strength, my nerves were numbed, and my stomach almost paralysed. Life was an existence of 'horrors,' with no hope of relief. Doctors seemed unable to do me any good, and admitted that my case baffled them. But here I am to-day, better in health and stronger than ever before, cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

"I am," continued Mr. Evans, "a member of the South Wales Stokers' and Fitters' Association, and work in the Maritime Pits. My illness began suddenly with an awful spasm of pain through my head; before nightfall I became very weak and shaky. Next morning I had a metallic taste in my mouth, and my stomach felt thoroughly upset. My nerves were so shaken that I took more than double my usual time to dress, and when I got down I could only throw myself on the couch, where I lay helpless for hours. I was doomed to spend seven weeks on that couch in agony. Weakness seemed to have settled in all my muscles, right up through my legs. Sometimes hunger and pain compelled me to swallow food or medicine, but anything seemed to set up violent sickness."

"Night and day it was the same. Flying pains all through my chest and stomach, and sickness if I commenced to eat. My senses at last were completely dulled. I knew nobody, and was scarcely able to realise what was said to me. I fell away as thin as a rake, and could not bear the least sound. Sometimes I tried to rise from my couch, but fell back helpless, stunned with pain; then for hours afterwards I lay dizzy and sick. Indeed, my sufferings all but drove me mad. I was attended by several clever doctors, but although I took different kinds of medicine, daily I grew weaker and weaker."

In the end, medical men said that my case baffled them, and I felt sure that I could only linger a little while longer. There around believed that a cure was impossible, but a friend from the pits urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. He convinced me by relating some wonderful cures, and I promised to try the pills at once. I procured some, and the result was that the terrible weakness was arrested and I began to make steady progress until, by continuing Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I was well enough to go back to work."

"That is the truth," continued Mr. Evans; "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured when my stomach rejected every other kind of medicine, and they built up my strength and set my nerves right. The pains in my head were the first to go; then my appetite recovered, and I wanted solid food. Now I eat well and sleep well, and work harder than ever. In fact, since my cure I have done heavier work, with no return of my terrible illness."

Strength, nerves of steel, and good blood are given to weak, ailing men by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They have cured Debility, Indigestion, Eczema, Rheumatism, Nervous Disorders, including St. Vitus' Dance and Paralysis; for women they are especially valuable in the ailments of their sex.

Sold in Egypt by all chemists at Fr. 3 50 the box or Fr. 17 50 for six boxes; also at the depots of S. Fischer & Co and Galetti & Figli Alexandria.

HOPE FOR THE SICK.

A VICTIM OF LA GRIPPE.

Mrs. Henrietta A. S. Marsh, 709 W. 16th St., Los Angeles, Cal., President Woman's Benevolent Ass'n, writes:

"I suffered with la grippe for seven weeks, and nothing I could do or take helped me until I tried Peruna."

"I felt at once that I had at last secured the right medicine and I kept steadily improving. Within three weeks I was fully restored, and I am glad that I gave that truly great remedy a trial. I will never be without it again."

In a letter dated August 31, 1904, Mrs. Marsh says: "I have never yet heard the efficacy of Peruna questioned. We still use it. I traveled through Kentucky and Tennessee three years ago, where I found Peruna doing its good work. Much of it is being used here also."—Henrietta A. S. Marsh.

For special directions everyone would read "The Ills of Life," a copy of which surrounds each bottle. Peruna is for sale by all chemists and druggists at five shillings per bottle or six bottles for twenty five shillings.

MAX FISCHER, Cairo & Alexandria.

ABDUL HAMID'S SUCCESSOR.

MANIFESTO OF YOUNG TURKISH PARTY.

The chief leader of the "Young Turks," Ahmed Riza, who is living in exile at Paris, declares that the Sultan, in spite of his recent partial recovery, has but a short time of life before him. His complaint is stated to be cancer of the kidneys, from which incurable illness his brother, Kemaleddin, died within six months.

"The death of Abdul Hamid, who refuses all reform to his subjects," Ahmed Riza writes, "is waited for impatiently. . . . That event will be a grand festival for all Ottomans, because it will be their deliverance, and mark the beginning of an epoch of progress."

"The disappearance of such a scourge," the Young Turkish leader continues, "will, however, not be without grave dangers and difficulties, as regards his successor and the country at large. Every 'Black Band' of adventurers will try to get a hand in. The Bulgarian 'comitadjis' will burn their last cartridge to attain their object. Russia seems to be ready to throw oil on any conflagration that may arise. Murderous henchmen, disguised as Ulema or soldiers, will attack the houses of Christians, and then such an event will be denounced to the Powers as crimes committed by fanatic Mussulmans, so as to bring about intervention. An attempt may even be made to insist on the choice of a Sultan under age, in order to facilitate European intervention."

In view of such possibilities a proclamation, or manifesto, has been issued, in which the whole reign of Abdul Hamid is branded. It declares that the accomplices of the Sultan intend placing his fourth son, the youth Burhaneddin, on the throne and at the head of the Khalifate, to the detriment of the real heir, Prince Mohamed Reshad Effendi.

"The rights of the latter," the manifesto says, "must be defended with all our strength, and even at the price of our blood. The happiness and the future of our country depend on the suppression of this despotic rule and on the application of the Constitution of 1876, which was recognised as an inalienable right of the nation, but was perfunctorily done away by Abdul Hamid. Our Christian and Mussulman compatriots must, in common accord, demand to have this Constitution again put in force, so as to give the country once more its vitality, for the sake of the people's welfare."

NEW HARBOUR WORKS AT MALTA.

The two new dry docks in the Grand Harbour, Malta, which have been under construction for nearly six years, are now completed, and constitute an important part of the programme of improvements now being carried out by the Admiralty at that port. They are (says the "Times Engineering Supplement") situated in a well-protected position at the top of French Creek, and are 790ft. and 550ft. long respectively, with a width of 120ft. on the cope and a depth of water on the sill of 35ft. The larger dock can be divided into two docks by means of an inner caisson, and both docks can be lengthened by 40ft. when necessary by moving the caissons to the outer stops. Although the contractors, Messrs. S. Pearson and Son, have completed their portion of the work, the formal opening is not likely to take place for a month or two. The work has been difficult and costly, the docks having been excavated out of solid rock, and the rock fissured to such an extent that the contractors were practically compelled to pump water direct from the Mediterranean. So great was the quantity of water to be dealt with that on more than one occasion the docks were flooded and work had to be entirely suspended for pumping operations, while at one period for several months in succession the plant was pumping over 40 million gallons of water every 24 hours. This operation necessitated the employment of a pumping plant (probably the heaviest employed on any contract of this kind) which includes seven Lancashire boilers, 300 h.p., and eight sets of heavy rocker pumps, in addition to a large number of portable engines and pumps of all classes. Apart from the trouble with the water, the work of construction was carried on by such a force of workmen that the smaller dock was practically built within eight months, and, in addition to the native workmen, it was necessary to import labour from both Italy and Spain, as many as 3,000 men being at one time employed upon the work. The construction called for the use of over one million feet of granite, most of which was imported from Sardinia, whilst some came from the Alps. The docks are a great addition to the resources of the port, and will easily accommodate the largest ships at present afloat. The intention at the time the construction of the docks was decided upon was to make Malta a more important naval station than hitherto, and the then existing docks were too small for the ships to use the port. The docks are being fitted with the most modern appliances for repairs. Among other works at present being carried out is the construction of two breakwaters at the entrance to the Grand Harbour, which is now exposed to the Grecale winds. The larger breakwater will extend 1,400ft. from the shore, and a shorter one of 400ft. is already constructed. Other improvements now being carried out by the Admiralty are new wharf walls and additional berth accommodation, which have necessitated a large amount of dredging. The whole scheme when completed will constitute a very important addition to the port. The work has been under the special superintendence of Mr. Ernest Pearson. The Admiralty have been represented by Colonel Sir E. R. Khan, under whose direction the work has been carried out, and Mr. Cartwright Reid, who during the latter stages of the work has acted as superintendent civil engineer.

BAGDAD RAILWAY EXTENSION.

It is announced that work will begin in March next on another link of the Bagdad railway line. The new branch will run from Baghdad to the terminus of the existing line, south of Koni, to Adana.

Herr R. ter, the manager of the undertaking, has, says the "Manchester Guardian" correspondent, already arrived at Constantinople, and two German engineers have set out to study on the spot the question of turning Mersina, which is connected by a short line with Adana, into the port of discharge, or of constructing a new harbour at Yumurtalik, a few miles from Mersina.

ANOTHER LIFE SAVED BY DOAN'S BACKACHE KIDNEY PILLS.

STONE AND KIDNEY DISEASE.

Mrs. Catlin, of 19, Hinton Road, Herne Hill, London, England, who is an old lady, says:—"I was ill altogether about four years from what the doctors (and I had to see three of them) told me was stone and kidney disease," said Mrs. Catlin. "I had dreadful pains, not only in my back, but in my left side, frequently headaches and dizziness came over me, so that I could scarcely see; I couldn't even manage to thread my needle. My tongue was coated, and there was a terribly bad taste in my mouth."

"Things went from bad to worse, and at length I was obliged to take to my bed, where I lay for over 10 months. The last time I went out before this I fainted in the shop where I was making a purchase."

"At last the doctor said there was no hope for me unless I went into hospital; at that time I couldn't walk without support."

"I went into hospital, but I got no better and the doctors decided that it was necessary I should undergo an operation; I didn't like the idea of this, and left the hospital, the doctors telling my husband that I couldn't possibly get over my illness. Before I came out I had to sign a paper taking upon myself all risk for doing so."

"That same night I began using Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, and they quickly proved to be just what was needed. In a week or two, instead of being a helpless cripple, I was able to get about a little, and even to help with the housework. Gradually I picked up my strength, all the pains disappeared, and I felt all right again."

"I have had no return whatever of the kidney disease since Doan's Pills cured me, 10 months ago."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all chemists and druggists at 13 P.T. per box.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

London, November 8.

The 2nd Battalion Royal Berkshire Regiment, under the command of Brevet Colonel F. W. N. McCracken, D.S.O., will embark at Alexandria on the 1st December on the S.S. Dongola for conveyance to the port of Karachi, from where the battalion will proceed to Subathu, to be stationed. Subathu is a very healthy station within view of Simla.

The command of the 2nd Battalion Rifle Brigade (recently in Egypt) at Chanbatia, has just changed hands, Major H. P. King Salter, second in command of the 4th Battalion at Malta, having been promoted lieutenant colonel commanding in succession to Colonel H. F. M. Wilson, whose tenure had expired. The new chief of the 2nd Battalion has served in the Green Jackets for nearly 27 years, and has the North West Frontier Campaign, 1897-98 (medal with clasp) to his credit. The vacant majority has gone to Captain H. D. Ross, 2nd Battalion, Devonport. Major Ross gets the crown at slightly over 16 years' service.

Lieutenant F. B. Nixon, Inniskilling Dragoons, has been placed on duty with the Egyptian draft of his regiment, which will embark for Cairo on the 1st prox.

Lieutenant A. G. Tritton, Coldstream Guards, has been appointed adjutant of the Guards depot, Caterham.

The reservists of the Royal Horse Artillery and the Royal Field Artillery are to be called up for drill with the new 15-pounder and 18 pounder quick firing guns with which the batteries of those arms are being re-armed.

The Highflyer, Captain Christian, was completed to full complement yesterday to replace the cruiser Fox, Captain J. B. Easton, on the East Indies Station. Owing, however, to some defects in her engine room, the Highflyer will not leave Devonport for some time. When previously on the East Indies Station, the Highflyer bore an indifferent reputation for speed, and she frequently came under the category of "lame ducks."

The return of the practice made by the ships of the Mediterranean Fleet shows that the first place was taken by the Formidable, with a score of 118.30, and the scores of the others in the order of merit were—Carnarvon, 114.31; Venus, 108.63; Bulwark, 99.35; Minerva, 97.49; Leviathan, 94.60; Lancaster, 90.64; Irresistible, 86.25; Venerable, 85.76; London, 84.23; Juno, 83.56; Implacable, 81.41; Queen, 76.08; Suffolk, 63.83. The Drake, flag-ship of the Second Cruiser Squadron, took the highest score—124.49 points, and making 17 hits out of 18 rounds—in the gun-laying tests of Channel, Mediterranean, and Atlantic Fleets.

JEWISH ANTIQUITIES IN EAST LONDON.

Canon Barnett, of Tynahoe Hall, last week opened in the Whitechapel Art Gallery, a novel exhibition, which it is hoped will have the effect of drawing the Christian and the Jewish communities into closer touch.

All the articles on view relate to Jewish art or antiquities, and for Biblical students almost every exhibit has a lesson. There is included the stone from the Temple at Jerusalem which was presented to Sir Moses Montefiore by the Governor of that city. A signet ring on view is said to have belonged to a contemporary of the Prophet Nehemiah. The Chief Rabbi (Dr. Adler) and Canon Barnett both expressed the strong hope that the exhibition would have the effect of bringing about a better understanding between Jew and Gentile.

BULLETIN DE LA BOURSE

(Aujourd'hui à midi et demie.)

Toute l'attention du marché s'est concentrée ce matin sur la Delta Land, l'Investment, les Estates, et les Buildings Lands, ainsi que sur l'Agricole et les Tramways d'Alexandrie. Les Sucreries sont demandées à 30 francs et les parts de fondateur Comptoir à 55£, soit 2£ de hausse.

D'une façon générale, cependant, la tendance est plutôt faible. La Privilegiée Bière d'Alexandrie fléchit à 217, la Bière du Caire à 133 la Privilegiée et 72 la Dividende, la Salt & Soda à 26/3, l'Obligation Crédit Foncier à 336, la Cassa di Sconto nouvelle à 238, le Trust à 19/16 vendeurs, les Estates à 2 3/8, le Comptoir à 6 29/32, l'Union Foncière à 6 17/32 et le Crédit Franco-Egyptien à 5 9/16 vendeurs.

Par contre, la National Bank remonte à 27 1/4 acheteurs, la Rameh à 7 1/32, les Tramways s'avancent à 193, les Lots Turos à 153, la Delta Land à 4 15/32, l'Investment à 1 17/32 et les Splendid Hotels à 4 3/16.

Sur le reste aucun changement et transactions nulles.

Demain, samedi, et lundi la corbeille des valeurs restera fermée.

Pour les Hooker on parle d'un coupon intérimaire de 1 shilling 6 pence, soit 1 1/2% sur la 1/2 livre vendue. Cette société serait également en pourparlers pour la revente de la propriété qu'elle a récemment achetée au Crédit Franco-Egyptien Rue el Rassafa à Moharrem Bey.

NOTES ET CRITIQUES

Le Caire, 15 Novembre.

Le taux de l'escompte libre à Londres est toujours resté à 6%. Hier, au Stock Exchange, le Consolidé est resté invarié à 85 5/8 de même que l'Unité à 102. La Delta Light a gagné 1/8 à 12 1/4.

A Paris, le Crédit Foncier Egyptien s'est maintenu à 780. La Banque d'Athènes a rétrogradé de 1 franc à 146. L'Emprunt russe 1906 a passé de 84 80 à 84.90.

Malgré l'approche des fêtes du Baïram (la Bourse restera fermée après-demain), la séance de ce matin a été assez active. Il y a bien eu un léger tassement sur certaines grosses valeurs, qui ont été négligées; mais l'ensemble de la cote s'est maintenu ferme. Plusieurs titres ont même bénéficié d'une plus-value.

Dans le compartiment des Banques, la National a été ramené à 27 1/4-5/16 et l'Agricole à 9 3/4-13/16. Le Comptoir Financier a mollifié à 6 7/8-15/16; sa part de fondateur s'est, par contre, inscrite à 53. La Banque d'Orient a rétrogradé à 134-135.

Le Crédit Foncier a faibli à 780.781 et la Daira à 17 1/4-5/16. L'Immobilier a progressé à 382; sa part de fondateur est revenue à 780. La Nile Land a fait 17 7/16-1/2 et la part de fondateur Enterprise and Development 22-23 3/8. Les Improvements se sont raffermis à 6 5/8.

Les Entreprises Immobilières et Travaux ont clôturé à 4 11/16-3/4 et leur part de fondateur à 98. Les Allotments se sont maintenus à 4 3/16 et leur part de fondateur à 169.

Les Héliopolis ont rétrogradé à 329. Les Automobiles ont fléchi à 5 1/2-9/16 et leur part de fondateur à 8 3/4. Les Jouissances Eaux du Caire sont remontées à 271.272. La part de dividende Brasserie des Pyramides s'est alourdie à 72. Les Ciments ont rétrogradé à 73. L'Anglo-American Nile a reculé à 5 7/8-15/16. La part de fondateur Menzaleh est revenue à 100. Les dividendes Tramways d'Alexandrie ont gagné 13 francs à 352.

Dans le groupe des valeurs héliopolitaines, les Nongovich ont été bien tenus à 18 9/16, les Egyptian à 7 7/8, l'Upper Egypt à 5 3/8-7/16 et les National à 4 1/16.

Parmi les petites valeurs, les Delta Land ont cédé à 4 7/16-1/2. Les Estates ont débuté à 2 5/16 pour finir à 2 3/8-7/16. En très bonne tendance, les Abdy ont été recherchés à 1 1/2-9/16. Les Hooker se sont raffermis à 1 1/4. Les New Egyptian ont faibli à 33/3, les Khedivial Mail à 42/6 et les Constructions à 1 11/16-3/4.

Hier à ce lieu le lancement de l'"America", le second bateau anglais en Angleterre par

L'Express Nile Steamers Co. pour son service de passagers.

On suit avec intérêt le développement de cette Société, qui, en quelques mois, a réussi à établir un service de transport de marchandises dont les résultats dépassent toutes les espérances, et un service de passagers, dont le succès est d'ores et déjà assuré.

Il y a lieu de noter que ces résultats ont été atteints avec un capital insignifiant: trente mille livres. C'est pourquoi l'on peut s'attendre à une forte hausse sur l'action, qui est encore aux environs du pair et constitue l'un des meilleurs placements que l'on puisse faire en ce moment.

Nous détachons d'une lettre de Londres, en date du 9 Novembre, le passage suivant:

"La situation monétaire reste toujours serrée, mais on sent tout de même un peu moins de gêne que la semaine dernière et on ne craint plus que la Banque songe à élever son taux d'escompte à 7% car, d'une part, les nouvelles d'Amérique sont plus rassurantes et, d'autre part, on annonce que la Banque de France vient d'autoriser la sortie de £200,000 destinées à l'Egypte. C'est là un symptôme qui porte à croire que Londres ne sera plus appelé, cette année, à ravitailler le marché égyptien."

Le conseil d'administration de la Compagnie du Canal de Suez vient de fixer comme suit les acomptes des dividendes de 1906 à payer le 1er janvier 1907: action de capital, Frs. 55 bruts ou 50.23 nets; action de jouissance, 42.50 bruts ou 31.58 nets; part de fondateur, 93.91 bruts ou 21.93 nets.

The "Allenburys" DIET is a complete milk and farinaceous Food, easy of assimilation, most agreeable to take, simply and quickly made. It is recommended in place of ordinary milk foods, gruel, etc., and whilst acceptable to all as a light nourishment, it is particularly helpful to Dyspeptics, Invalids and the Aged. In the sick-room it will be found invaluable and it is easily and quickly made, the addition of boiling water only being necessary.

FOR INVALIDS, DYSPEPTICS & THE AGED.

ALLEN & HANBURYS Ltd., Lombard St., LONDON.

The "Allenburys" DIET is readily digested by those who are unable to take cow's milk and is particularly serviceable in convalescence. When taken as a light supper diet it will be found to promote tranquil and refreshing sleep. Although this DIET is a food for Adults and is entirely distinct from the "Allenburys" Foods for Infants, yet it is also of great value as a restorative food for young children, especially during convalescence.

MONEY AND SHARE MARKET.

(FROM OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT).

London, November 9.

The Money Market.

The Old Woman of Threadneedle Street is more comfortable. Slowly but surely the monetary situation is improving. The Bank statement showing a proportion of gold reserve of over 38 per cent. was better than was expected, and it is hoped that even if the American Treasury makes no advances, and no other outside relief comes, the arrivals of gold from the Cape, of which £1 675,000 is now on the way, will meet any further demands likely to be made. The crisis may be considered past, and the moderation shown on all hands, particularly in the reduction of speculation on the Stock Exchange, is now fully recognised. It is unnecessary to say that the discount houses have been in a very awkward position during the past few weeks, and even to day the price at which long bills can be negotiated shows a very large margin. For four months' bills 5½ per cent. is taken, but no one will bring in long bills who can afford to hold them for the present. The position is not clear enough even yet to enable the discount houses to see ahead with any certainty. Naturally, therefore, they charge outside rates.

The Stock Markets.

This week the stock markets have pursued the very even tenor of their way, and in no section has there been any degree of excitement; even the New York elections stimulated but a moderate amount of interest. The reason for this apathy is not far to seek. The end of a long and dull account is at hand, and had there been any inclination to open new commitments, these would have been checked by the prospect of high contango rates following on the six per cent. Bank rate. As has been the case for some time past—in fact, since the drain of gold from the Bank of England commenced, the week opened with further fears of dearer money and a higher rate, but these gradually evaporated, the action of the Bank of France in releasing gold for Egypt helping to restore confidence. This improved feeling was further assisted yesterday by the publication of the return showing an increase of nearly a million in the reserve, and the fact that the Bank rate remained at 6 per cent. The tone continues good, but as the settlement in mining shares commences to-day, and in general securities at the beginning of next week, stock and share dealings are restricted within narrow limits.

Consols.

The gilt-edged market has been somewhat depressed, fears of money troubles and an increase in the rate of discount operating unfavourably. The price of Consols has moved irregularly, and the improvement in the reserve and the non-increase of the rate failed to impart strength. Consols leave off to-night at 86½ for the account, at which figure they show no change on our last.

Foreign Bonds.

There has been some talk of a new Russian loan, and it has been "authoritatively" stated in Paris that the question has made considerable progress there as the result of M. Levolsky's visit, and the assurances he was able to give as an interview with the Tsar. These rumours have naturally had the effect of checking the boom in Russian securities which had continued for some days, and on Tuesday the Fours dropped ½ to 76½, and the scrip of the new Five-½ to 64½ discount. They close to-night at 76 and 64½ discount. There has been a good investment demand for the two series of Japanese Four and a Half per cent., and the quotation for these has improved to 94½ and 92½. The other series are dull.

Home Rails.

Home railways made a good start, and there were several advances of ½ to ½, and in one case, London Chatham and Dover 4½.

Preference, a gain of a full point was shown. Since then, however, the market has relaxed into a state of listlessness, excepting York Deferred, and the Scotch section, which has been firm on the improved prospects regarding a settlement of the Clyde dispute. Caledonian Deferred are up to 31½ and the Preferred to 73½, while North British are also better, the Preferred at 74 and the Deferred at 40½. There has been a demand for York Deferred, which is understood to be in connection with dividend anticipations, dealers counting upon two per cent. as a minimum. The shares close at 42½.

Americans.

The New York elections have, of course, been the chief topic in the American market. On election day Wall Street was closed, and in consequence business here in these shares was practically suspended. In anticipation that there would be a great amount of activity following the announcement of the result of the contest for the Governorship of New York State, a number of enterprising jobbers turned up in the "Street" at the unearthly hour of 8 a.m. on Wednesday, but they were disappointed, the result coming in too late to be of any use in this direction, and all that the early risers got for their diligence was the good-humoured chaff of the more leisurely section of the fraternity.

The fact that Mr. Hughes obtained such a comparatively small majority—55,000 or 60,000, out of a total vote of about 2,000,000—caused some disappointment in the "House," for there was an uncomfortable feeling that had a democratic candidate lacking the personal drawbacks of Mr. Hearst been nominated he would certainly have been elected. The effect upon the shares was not, however, important. Wabash "B" Debentures dropped 2 points, but in the main the losses ranged from ½ to ½. Illinois was a good market, and gained 2½ at 180½.

To-day Americans have been flat, and there are several declines of 1 point, while Union Pacifics are 1½ lower.

Egyptians.

The idleness prevalent in other sections has communicated itself to the Egyptian market, and this week there has been little business doing—a contrast with the activity prevailing during the previous fortnight. Land and General Trusts, however, have been in good demand, and have risen to 4s. premium, the quotation last Friday being 2s. to 3s. Investment and Agency have also advanced to ½ premium, but very few shares have changed hands. National Bank of Egypt have been 27½, but have sagged away to 27½, while Agricultural Banks are easier at 93. The bonds of the latter are a bad market at 89-90. Daira Sanieh shares are also dull again at 17½.

Quite a feature has been the strength of Egyptian Estates shares. There was considerable bidding in the market yesterday, and 2½ was freely offered, without sellers at this figure. It is satisfactory to note that Bearer shares were at a premium as compared with the Registered shares, 2 9/32 being offered for the former against 2½, with the Deferred at 15-17.

Delta Preference are unchanged at 12½, and Delta Land & Investment, after being 4½ bid, and 2½ seller, close firm at 4½. The Fivestamp are up to 2, but there are no shares on this side, so this quotation is quite nominal. Union Foncière at 6½ and Land Bank at 9 are unchanged. Corporation of Western Egypt at 3½ premium are a shade better, but Egyptian Markets and Salt & Soda remain at 1½ and 1½. Bank of Roumania are a flat market at 9½-10.

Mining.

This market has been marking time pending the carry-over, which takes place to-day. Depression ruled after the announcement made by the Gold Field Company that the dividend is passed notwithstanding the fact that the accounts show a balance of £607,928 after payment of the debenture and preference interest. The directors consider it imprudent to declare a dividend in view of the uncertain state of the labour question brought about by the present Government, which is naturally a little tantalising to the shareholders. On this announcement Gold Fields were offered down to 31½, other leading shares giving way in sympathy. Rand Mines close to-night at 6. East Rand at 4, and Modderfontein at 4½. New Vaal River have had a sharp rise of ½ to 8½.

There is absolutely no movement to record in Egyptian mining shares, which have been lifeless throughout the week. Nile Valleys remain at 5s. and Egyptian Mines at 3s. 6d. Um Rus 17s. paid are 1s. 6d. to 2s. 6d.

THE COTTON MARKET.

KEARSELEY AND CUNNINGHAM'S WEEKLY REPORT

Liverpool, November 8.

We have again had a dragging market for Spot Cotton, the actual sales being very small. Prices are irregular, and the following are the changes in quotations:—Fair Brown is unchanged; Good Fair to Fine are reduced ¼d per lb., whilst Good Fair and Fine Uppers are raised ½ and ¾. Fully Good Fair and Good being reduced ½ per lb. Futures have been fairly active, and the following are the latest values:—

Nov. 9.4d	Febr. 8.50	May 8.50
Dec. 8.58	Mar. 8.50	June 8.50
Jan. 8.51	April 8.50

American Futures.—The market this week has been very depressed, and the fall in prices, which has been as much as 31 points, has been almost continuous. To-day there has been some recovery, and closing prices are 20 @ 22 points below those of last Thursday. The chief causes of the decline have been the large crop movements, heavy "bull" liquidation, and extensive "bear" manipulation. Much has been made of the Bureau Census Ginnery report which is to be issued this evening in New York, and owing to large crop movements, very extreme estimates have been promulgated for market purposes. Conservative estimates are about 6,800,000 to 7 millions. Should 7 millions not be exceeded, we think the figures would be considered favourable to the market, and we should expect a further recovery in values. The South is holding firmly to the actual cotton, and considering the large sales made ahead for shipment to Europe this month, buyers will probably have to pay the price demanded, which would in turn give strength to the contract markets.

The following are the latest quotations:—Nov. 5.38 Jan./Feb. 5.32 Apr./May 5.39 Nov./Dec. 5.31 Feb./Mar. 5.34 May/June 5.41 Dec./Jan. 5.31 Mar./Apr. 5.37 June/July 5.43 July/Aug. 5.45

SUDAN GOVERNMENT.

DISPOSAL OF BUILDING SITES AT PORT SUDAN.

The Sudan Government will shortly dispose by Tender of about 400 Building Sites at Port Sudan.

The sites will be Leasehold held at Annual Rents on Building Lease for Eighty Years from 1st January, 1907. Rents will be payable only from date of acceptance of Tender.

The Lease will be Perpetually Renewable at Revised Rents fixed in default of Agreement by Arbitration at the end of each term of years. In fixing the revised rents the value of Buildings erected by Lessees will not be regarded as a ground for Increase of Rent.

Example: If a plot is leased for a term of 80 years from 1st January 1907 then on the expiration of that term the Lessee will have a right (subject to observance of his covenant etc.) to obtain a fresh lease for a further period of 80 years at a revised rent, and so on in perpetuity. The revised rent will be calculated on the value the site would bear if it were vacant building lands.

Offers are invited of Premiums for the Purchase of the above mentioned leasehold sites. All offers must be made by Tender, on the forms issued by the Sudan Government, and must be received at Khartoum not later than 1st January 1907.

Particulars of the sites offered, Plan of the Town, Conditions of Tender and Sale, Form of Tender, specimen Form of Lease, etc., will on and after October 1st 1906 be open to inspection at the following places during the usual business hours:

JOINT SYSTÈME BUNNE pour manchons de tuyaux d'eau et de gaz.

Manchon d'un tuyau de 300 mm de diamètre rendu étanche par la laine de plomb Bunne et soumis à une pression de 20 atmosphères.

Jusqu'à présent on assemblait les manchons de tuyaux en y introduisant tout d'abord une tresse de chanvre et en coulant du plomb dans la partie restée vide, puis on matab le plomb coulé. Notre nouveau système de raccord étanche se compose tout autrement. Nous employons au lieu de plomb fondue la laine de plomb brevetée en tresses de 1 m. de longueur et pesant ¼, ½ ou 1 kilogramme, suivant les manchons, et procédons comme suit:

Après avoir tout d'abord introduit et comprimé la tresse de chanvre, on prend une tresse de laine de plomb ou une partie seulement de la tresse, selon la force du joint, on l'enroule autour du tuyau et on la mate fortement dans le manchon; on répète l'opération jusqu'à ce que le manchon soit complètement plein et bien maté. Par le fait que le matage commence déjà au fond du manchon c.à.d. directement sur la tresse de chanvre, la laine de plomb se transforme en une masse homogène, au moyen de laquelle on réalise non seulement une étanchéité parfaite, mais encore résistance beaucoup plus considérable qu'au préalable.

Des essais de notre nouveau système de raccordement étanche ont été faits non seulement dans nos usines, mais aussi en beaucoup de villes qui en font l'étude à différents points de vue. Ainsi nous avons réalisé des joints de tuyaux de 300 et 450 mm de diamètre d'après notre procédé et soumis ces joints pendant des semaines à une pression constante de 20 atmosphères sans que le raccord cédât. On réunit également bout à bout 4 tuyaux de 100 mm de diamètre d'après notre procédé: on place les deux extrémités sur deux supports de telle sorte que la partie intermédiaire ne fait pas sautoir; on constate ainsi aucune flexion. Par contre un essai analogue avec des joints en plomb fondu accusa une flexion considérable.

Il est ainsi démontré qu'avec notre procédé on obtient un joint bien étanche et une résistance mécanique bien plus grande qu'au préalable.

Notre nouveau procédé de raccordement étanche offre en outre l'immense avantage de permettre de travailler par tous les temps et sans nécessiter la mise à sec des manchons.

Outre ces énormes avantages techniques, notre procédé présente vis-à-vis des anciens procédés encore d'autres. L'appareil embranchant pour le coulage du plomb est supprimé, et avec lui tout le combustible tel que bois et coke; la perte de plomb à la coule est évitée; on supprime de même le sable, la main d'œuvre de moulage des têtes de manchons et la main d'œuvre de coulage.

Dans notre procédé il ne faut plus que des marteaux. Il s'ensuit que notre méthode rend le travail plus économique que l'ancien procédé, sans parler des avantages concernant l'hygiène.
